

Travel › News & Advice

St Patrick's Day 2017: Where to celebrate in the UK, from Bristol to Glasgow

Looking for some craic to celebrate St Patrick's Day this weekend? There's plenty going on over here without having to put on a shamrock hat and head to the Emerald Isle

St Patrick's Day at Jinty McGinty's: You could almost be in Ireland Design My Night

Not impressed by the Dubliners going sober for St Patrick's Day? There are plenty of places in the UK celebrating tonight and this weekend. From London to Bristol, Glasgow to Bruton, Leighanne Bent from DesignMyNight has picked some of the best.

A classy affair at London Cocktail Club

London: London Cocktail Club

Kill two birds with one stone tonight at LCC where you'll not only drink innovative whiskey cocktails but also learn the craft of making them. Kicking off at 7pm, spirit industry professionals will educate you on the history of Teeling whiskey, teach you how to shake two cocktails, and let you sample the goods. A special Paddy's Day-themed cocktail menu will be available afterwards for anyone who's not ready to call it a night.